1 THE COURT: So right now all discovery is under the 2 old deadlines until I get to impose new deadlines. And you
3 obviously aren't agreeing, so I'm going to set up another 4 status conference so you can give me your respective 5 proposals and all of us aren't exhausted after a long week.
6 So that's the best bet. I won't cut you off at the knees, I
7 promise, particularly on trade secrets. I won't do that to 8 you, but I just don't think I'm ready -- it's now five of 9 5:00 -- to go head to head on a scheduling order, especially 10 since it will be so much more helpful when I have an expert
11 in mind, I have a timetable in mind, I'll know what to think 12 about it. So in July, like around the 15th, 16th, the next 13 week, the 20th, somewhere in there?

14 THE CLERK: July 18 at 2:00 p.m.

15 THE COURT: All right, so it gives you basically a 16 month to get an expert in line, give me alternative sets of 17 proposals. We'll be working on this, and hopefully we'll be 18 done with it by the end of the summer and so I don't start a 19 new clerk on it, but if not, it will create some delay.

20 MR. BROMBERG: Your Honor, we do have some 21 depositions scheduled right now. Are you saying that we 22 should not do them or just go ahead and --

23 THE COURT: That's fine. If they have been 24 prescheduled, do them.

Dear Wendy:

In December of last year, we noticed the depositions of the individual defendants in the above-referenced action. When VST failed to provide dates for their depositions, more than four months ago, we re-noticed for deposition the individual defendants. Despite our repeated efforts to obtain satisfactory dates from you, and your repeated promises to provide dates, no dates have been offered. Indeed, during our telephone conversation of Monday, June 6, 2005, I asked you for acceptable dates and you indicated you would provide those dates. Still, I have heard nothing from you.

There is no justification for this delay. Enclosed please find deposition re-notices for Laurence S. Gillick, Robert S. Roth, and Jonathan P. Yamron. We expect the defendants to appear for their depositions on these dates.

Sincerely,

Rebecca L. Hanovice
